Journal of Hazardous Materials

Dear Editor,

Thank you for your consideration our manuscript (HAZMAT-D-25-12557) in publishing in Journal of Hazardous Materials, and we also thank the reviewers for their kind and valuable comments.

We have carefully revised the manuscript according to each comment from the reviewer. In particular, we have further refined the description of the methods, clarified the research objectives and scientific hypotheses, revised the results and discussion sections, and expanded the discussion on the model's boundary conditions and applicability. As requested, revision note with point to point responses and actions, change tracking manuscript and revised manuscript have been prepared and included in the revision submission.

Looking forward to your further instruction regarding its publication.

Yours Sincerely,

Ming Su, on behalf of all authors
